SPEECH BY SECRETARY McCOLLOCH.

His Opinion of the President's Experiment.

His Financial Views and the Measures he Favors.

Secretary McCulloch is on a visit to his home in Indiana, and last Wednesday evening a banquet was given him at Fort Wayne, where he made a speech from which we make the following extracts:

THE PRESIDENT'S POLICY.
When the rebellion was overthrown, and the so-called Confederate government and all State governments which had been formed in opposition to the Federal Government ceased to have even a nominal existence, and the people who had been subject to them were left, for the time being, without any government whatever.
The term of office of the Federal officers had expired, and the offices had become vacant by the reason of those who had held them. There were no Federal revenue officers, no competent Federal judges and no organized Federal courts. The country was in a state of anarchy. The Confederacy collapsed and the rebel State governments collapsed with it, so that with a few exceptions, there were no persons holding civil office at the time of the restoration of the Union.

Such an army would have been requisite for the government of the people of the South, as a subjugated people, until Congress might prescribe the terms which they could be restored to the Union, which would have been a severe trial upon any republican institutions, and too expensive for the present condition of the treasury.

AN INSTRUCTIVE RETROSPECT.

It is only six years ago that this fall that the indignity people of Minnesota, ruined and exasperated by a long career of Democratic extravagance, recklessness, profligacy and fraud in our State affairs—rose in their wrath and hurled them from power; and now that, with tireless effort, they are again asking to be entrusted with the State Government, it is worth while to remember what they did when they had it.

They went into power in 1859, when Minnesota was in the full tide of prosperity, owing largely to the wise and vigorous state administration of Gov. Ramsey, and they went out again in 1865, leaving nothing but ruin and wreck behind them: the swindled people impoverished, all our public works suspended, industry paralyzed, the treasury robbed and bankrupt, the public credit destroyed, and the State reeling under a mountain load of debt which the recklessness and corruption of the Democratic leaders had fastened upon the people.

The whole period of their administration of the Territorial and State Government was one long career of profligacy, extravagance, of wicked and dishonest misappropriations of the public money, and of swindling schemes for the benefit of the Democratic leaders, culminating finally in the disastrous five million loan measure—through which State bonds amounting to two million two hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars, were issued to railroad companies for the alleged purpose of aiding Mr. Rice and others in the construction of railroads, but for which the State got not a single mile of railroad in return, and in a Wild Cat Banking system based on these worthless bonds, through which immense quantities of worthless stock certificates were put in circulation among the people; and finally, in the explosion of the whole swindling scheme, by which thousands of poor laboring men, farmers, merchants, and others were defrauded, the State made bankrupt, and loaded down with debt, while Rice and his associates, grew rich upon the spoils they had divided among them.

During the last two years of the Democratic State administration, though in one of those years no Legislative session was held, though no land or school department had yet been organized, and no normal school, or State asylum, or geological surveys were supported, and though the operations of the State government did not embrace one quarter of the official business now transacted by it—the current expenses amounted to the enormous sum of $165,907, or $222,933 for each year, and twice the current expenses under Republican rule. In order to pay a portion of these enormous expenses, the eight per cent. State bonds amounting to $250,000 were issued, and still remain a debt to be paid; a part was paid by taxes, and State warrants were issued for the rest, which were worth only from 60 to 65 cents in the market, so completely had the financial recklessness of the Democratic party destroyed the public credit.

But this notorious extravagance in the current expenditures of the State was the least of the disasters which Democratic mismanagement inflicted upon the people. It was during these years that two Democratic years, 1858 and 1859, that Mr. Rice's "personal policy," the gigantic Five Million Loan scheme, "to aid in the construction of Railroads," was consummated, and that the Wild Cat Banking system, which made these paper bonds a basis of swindling, was put in operation.

By these measures the State was saddled with the prodigious debt of $2,275,000, in addition to the eight per cent. loan for State expenses of $250,000, and about $100,000 floating debt, making the stupendous aggregate debt of $2,625,000 imposed by Democratic extravagance upon a poor and struggling population of about 150,000 souls; while by means of the Wild Cat Banking system, which was put up as a tender to the big loan swindle, to convert these Railroad bonds into available currency, the laboring men, mechanics, merchants and farmers were directly robbed of several hundred thousand dollars more.

In the meantime, all the ordinary duties of government and all measures for the development or protection of our great school land and swamp land interests, or for the proper municipal organization of townships and counties, or system of State revenue and of common or normal schools, as well as the interests of immigration, and the care of the poor and unfortunate, were utterly neglected.

Under Democratic mismanagement our whole system of township and county government fell into ruinous confusion—employing a waste of useless expenditures to waste the substance of the people; the fees paid to county officers were enormous, and large sums were embezzled by dishonest officials; our revenue system was so bad that it left a legacy of $140,790 delinquent taxes to be collected by a Republican administration; the State was robbed by Democratic neglect or connivance of much of its most valuable school lands; the magnificent endowment of the State University was squandered, to gorge the ravenous maws of Democratic harpies, and the half-finished and deserted stone building, whose outlines of grandeur make melancholy mockery of our dreams of a State University, is only one mournful monument more of the ruin with which the Democratic party blasted every public interest committed to their keeping.

In 1857 the people, seeing how the spendthrift profligacy of the Democratic party was ruining the State, called Alex. Ramsey, in whose prudent and energetic statesmanship they had every confidence, to the Executive chair, but though clearly elected by a considerable majority, the choice of the people was defeated by Democratic frauds, whose outrageous impudence never had a parallel in the history of the country.

That was the year when Pembina County, which hadn't a white man or a voter of any sort, and hasn't now, gave, we believe, 600 votes for the Democratic candidate, and so everywhere on our Indian border. These were the means by which the Democratic party retained the power against the wishes of the people, which they used only to rob the Treasury, swindle the people and ruin the State.

And when in 1859 the Republican party, with Alexander Ramsey as their standard-bearer, were called by the people to rescue the State from the distresses and embarrassments into which it had been plunged by the disastrous mismanagement of the Democratic party, they found before them a task of appalling difficulty.

That task was to restore the public credit destroyed by Democratic dishonesty and recklessness; to fill a treasury depleted of its last dollar by Democratic extravagances—to pay off the debts incurred by Democratic folly and corruption—to foster and protect the great interests which Democratic imbecility had neglected—to bring back renewed prosperity to a people ruined by the plundering "personal policies" of the Democratic leaders, and to make a substantial basis in that renowned prosperity for the energetic prosecution of our public works.

Six years have passed—four of them years of terrible Indian raids, and two of devastating drouths, and how stands the native now?

By rigid economy in every department of the State government; by a large reduction of salaries; by cutting down the immense list of township and county stipendiaries to one half the Democratic allowance; by a skillful, frugal and honest administration of our financial system; and by a judicious husbandry of the resources of the State—by the floating debt of nearly one hundred thousand dollars has all been paid; the delinquent taxes mostly collected; the Treasury which the Democratic party left empty is full; the public debt which they left so low an ebb that State scrip would not sell for more than 60 or 65 cents on the dollar is now as good as the Bank of England, and in this spite of the extraordinary burdens imposed upon it and Indian wars, and the disastrous raids into the settlements, and destructive drouths.

The current expenses of the State government have been reduced from about $240,000 to about $150,000 per year, though the sphere of governmental operations has been immensely widened, the business of the various departments quadrupled, and the objects of legitimate and necessary expenditure largely multiplied.

We have established and fostered the State Normal School, and the State asylum for the deaf and dumb, incurred annual expenses for geological surveys, aid of emigration, for the care of insane persons, for the soldier's hospital, and various other important matters, which the Democratic party entirely neglected. Our school system, which, under the Democratic regime, was so scandalously ignored that hardly any provision was made anywhere for the support of schools—and an organized school district or school house was almost unknown outside of a Republican township—has now been completely organized, nearly all the school districts have been organized and have their regular schools, which are generally in a flourishing condition, under the efficient supervision of our State and county superintendents.

Our State Land Department has been thoroughly organized, and a wise and conservative policy adopted for the disposal of our school lands; and the profitable and secure investment of the resulting school fund, which has been faithfully and vigorously carried out.

Of our 3,000,000 acres of school lands, 131,950 acres have been sold at an average of $6.34 per acre, yielding the magnificent sum of $839,394 to the credit of our general school fund, which the sales to be made this year will increase to over a million dollars, and producing revenue enough with the regular school tax to give every child in the State a thorough education.

Our Railroad enterprises which in 1859 seemed in a condition of hopeless ruin, are now moving on to completion with a vigor and rapidity which promise in five years to give us a network of Railroads reaching to every point of the State. 174 miles have already been completed and the cars running thereon, and by next winter 300 miles will have been completed.

The people whom the Democratic party left in 1859 impoverished and in dispute as to how to prosper, happy and confident of the future. Though our young State has furnished nearly 25,000 men to suppress the Rebellion of the Democratic party against the Government, and has been devastated by Indian massacres and raids—the direct fruits of Democratic Indian frauds—she has meanwhile gone on prospering and to prosper under the benign sway of the Republican party. In spite of all the extraneous embarrassments and deceptions superadded to the legacy of woe and disaster imposed upon the State by Democratic misrule, our population has increased in six years from 150,000 to 250,000, and now that the war is over, it will double in three years. Our agricultural development has been wonderful. In 1858, when the people were diverted from industrial pursuits to depend for getting rich on the magnificent swindling schemes of the Democratic leaders, the State absolutely imported bread to eat; now, in 1865, our surplus wheat crop alone is between eight and nine millions of bushels—a result largely owing to the policy established by the Republican party, of depending upon industry and frugality for the development of our resources, instead of relying upon five million loan bills, and running into debt, and wild cat banking for grinding out cheap money by the bushel, and to waste speculations along the line or at the termini of imaginary railroads—specimens which only enriched the few at the expense of the many.

Such then are some of the splendid results which the State of Minnesota owes to the wisdom, the honesty, the rigid fidelity to the public interests, the broad and prudent forecast with which the Republican party has ruled the State. Every department of the State affairs has been administered with such prudent economy and yet with such vigor and statesmanship, as absolutely to defy criticism.

And now, after the Republican party has repaired, so far as it is possible to repair, the wreck and ruin wrought by Democratic misrule—now that they have restored, upon a sound basis, the public credit which the Democratic party had destroyed; now that their rigid economy and skillful financial management has filled the Treasury which the Democracy left empty and bankrupt; now that, by a judicious and statesmanlike husbandry of our school lands, they have accumulated a school fund which by next winter will amount to over a million of dollars, the Democratic party stand in the lead of their chief plunderers as coolly asking the people of Minnesota to restore them to power again, to replace this band of reckless spoliators, Rice, Earl, Goodrich, Becker, Cullen, Fridley and the rest in the guardianship of the now prosperous Treasury, and State.

Yes, now that the builder is fat, it is time, they think, to turn her over to the butchers. Now that the public credit is good these fellows would like to make it the basis of another FIVE MILLION LOAN to defraud and impoverish the poor laboring men and mechanics for the benefit of Henry M. Rice, Earl S. Goodrich, George L. Becker, Major Cullen, and the rest of the partnership. Now that the treasury is full, and swelling with the rich accumulations of Republican thrift and economy these cunning old plunderers would like to be entrusted with the keys, wouldn't they? They would like especially to get hold of that magnificent school fund of over a million dollars, wouldn't they? They would like to see how they would make the money fly as long as it lasted! What a merry harvest of spoils they would reap from the school and swamp lands! Yes, we understand these gentlemen. The people of Minnesota already enjoy the honor of their acquaintance. They have not forgotten that Messrs. Rice, Cullen, Fridley, and Earl Goodrich were the prime movers and chief beneficiaries of the series of reckless and ruinous "personal policies" which made the period of Democratic rule in this State a night of Egyptian darkness, and it did not require Mr. Rice's announcement that he desired to be elected solely to carry out certain "personal policies" of his own, to admonish the people of Minnesota that the transfer of our State Government to this band of harpies, would be an act of surrendering a besieged city to an army of mercenaries after a battle—yes, a battle—won by the people.

What Cullen, Fridley, Becker and Earl Goodrich meant by procuring the nomination of Rice was—PLUNDER; what Rice meant by accepting the nomination was PLUNDER; and his organ has acknowledged that he desires to be elected solely with a view to PLUNDER.

"For where the carcass is there the vultures are gathered together."

THE PIONEER. Is not for puffing Mr. Rice, we feel bound to insist that it shall not be both the job and we regret to notice in the list of his resplendent qualifications for Governor, one very striking and important omission, which has strong tendency to neutralize the force of its discriminating praises.

It asserts that he is "able," that he has a "national reputation," that in Congress "his attention to the interests of his constituents was unremitting;" that he is hospitable; that he has done favors for needy persons; that he has great "influence with capitalists," and that he has a "personal policy" which (if elected) he "will adopt;" but there is one thing the Pioneer does not say of him—it does not say that he is HONEST.

Considering that honesty is of all qualifications the one most desirable in the Governor of a State with a school fund of a million of dollars, and other great public interests to be vigilantly guarded, the pointed omission to certify to Mr. Rice's honesty, is rather severe on that gentleman.

But if the reticence of the Pioneer on this point is rather ominous, we must do it justice to say that it is a logical reason for its silence. We think we could mention some of them. One of them is that several persons are acquainted with Mr. Rice, and to say that he is "honest" might provoke that infernal passion to ventilate certain transactions not generally supposed to be deeply shrouded with that moral quality. Another reason is that it would be making the joke altogether too broad. Think of the joke of gravely alleging that Mr. Rice was "honest." How the Fairbanks-Cullen would shake his fat sides at the idea! How Fridley would snort a convulsive grin in his bandanna! And how Goodrich would smile sweetly in "his sleeve!" There would be a quiet guffaw from the old Fur Company, and roars of none too good-natured laughter from the financial agent of the Minnesota & Northwestern Railroad Company, and chuckles of derisive merriment from Holien-the-day and Joe Brown, and—but we won't embarrass our mossaic friends by extending the suggestive catalogue.

Nevertheless, Mr. Rice's case imperatively demands that somebody should certify to his honesty. Work the Pioneer do it? Won't Manchester swear to the veracity of Manchester? Bring Cullen to the witness stand. Surely Fridley will do so much for his old friend. Or shall we send for Breckinridge—or Billings—or Lawber—or Joe Brown? Is there nobody at Bayfield who will help him out of his scrape? Surely there must be somebody just now passing through the first stages of victimization who will be ready to assert as the duped Othello that "this fellow's of exceeding honesty."

INSANE ASYLUM. Notice to Quit from Iowa. The following is the letter from Dr. Patterson, the physician in charge of the Iowa Insane Asylum, which was mentioned in yesterday's Times:

IOWA HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE, ST. PAUL, IOWA, Sept. 30, 1885. DEAR SIR:—I am authorized and directed by the Trustees of the Iowa Hospital for the Insane, to inform you that on and after January 1st, 1886, insane patients from the State of Minnesota cannot be admitted to this institution, excepting urgent recent cases, and only in exchange for chronic incurable patients, one of which must be removed at the time of admitting each new case. You are also notified that it will probably be impossible to retain the present number of patients (30) in this institution for a longer period than during the year 1885, and that at the farthest all Minnesota patients must be removed from this institution before or during the spring of 1887. In this notice it is intended to name the longest possible limit, while it is possible that all patients belonging to Minnesota may require removal during the summer or autumn of 1886.

The capacity of the Iowa Hospital for the Insane is for only 300 patients. There are to-day 230 inmates, and the number is gradually increasing. In the wards appropriated for male patients the rooms are all occupied with the possibility of duplicating patients in a few days hence. This statement is made for the purpose of making you aware that the foregoing notice is not willingly given, but is compelled, and that it has been withheld as long as justice to the citizens of this State would permit.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant, R. J. PATTERSON. The census now nearly completed shows that there are over one hundred and fifty insane persons in Minnesota. It is the duty of the limited accommodations at Iowa, and the notice to withdraw even the few we have there, an Insane Asylum in this State becomes an imperative necessity, and a bill authorizing its erection should be one of the first to pass the Legislature at the next session.

Comments on an Elder Brother upon the Soldiers Who Don't Vote. POMME DE TERRE, MINN., Oct. 5, 1885. Editor St. Paul Press: Taking in hand one of those "Fire in the rear" papers, (Chaffin's Democrat,) dated Sept. 23d, we came across a set of resolutions adopted by Companies A, E, and F, Second Cavalry, Minn. Vol., which greatly amused us. Ist. They declare they will withhold their votes until the enjoyment of the rights of citizenship. We see nothing curious or difficult in that. We are candid in the impression that these men would not vote "intelligently," and in deferring are wise. Again, and what seems most strange, and is the tenor throughout, is the abuse of our Governor and State Government.

After all Gov. Miller has done for the soldiers of this State, in whatever department, it seems but poor return to blame him for that which he strives to prevent.

In this organization, we are proud to state Gov. Miller has our most heartfelt thanks for the interest he has manifested in our welfare, and for his untiring efforts to procure our discharge. His efforts have been crowned with success, he would have been held in grateful remembrance by every honest soldier in this district; but because unavailing, he is to be held responsible? We think not, and these resolutions, coming as they did through the medium of a Copperhead sheet, are received with indignation by all enlisted men of this sub-district.

Hoping these few words from us, who have been longer in the service, may have their good effects. Yours, etc., IND. BATTALION. —In Russia they have carried the club system far beyond what even they have done in England. There are clubs for ladies, and clubs for servants, and a cool recently gave her master notice because he was not allowed to go to the club. Just now St. Petersburg is full of a very unpleasant piece of scandal about one of the ladies' clubs. At these institutions card-playing is forbidden, and so, for want of better employment lotteries have come into fashion. At the club referred to a certain lady of rank has been overruled by her husband, and the servant whose duty it was to ascertain the winning numbers in the lottery and to read them aloud. He placed himself behind the lady's chair, and always informed her before she could check her numbers. He was over-ruled by his lady. Her patroness always won, and so the suspicions of the losers were excited, the treachery was discovered, and the noble lady was compelled to leave not only the club, but St. Petersburg.

—A negro, particularly a dead one, is not considered worth much in New Orleans, judging from the following item cut from a local of New Orleans paper: "There is a dead nigger in the river at the foot of Common House street." That is poor Sambo's obituary.

AN INSTRUCTIVE RETROSPECT.

It is only six years ago this fall that the indignant people of Minnesota, ruined and exasperated by a long career of Democratic extravagance, recklessness, profligacy and fraud in our State affairs—rose in their wrath and hurled them from power; and now that, with tireless effort, they are again asking to be entrusted with the State Government, it is worth while to remember that they did with it when they had it.

They went into power in 1859, when Minnesota was in the full tide of prosperity, owing largely to the wise and vigorous statesmanship of Gov. Ramsey, and they went out again in 1865, leaving nothing but ruin and wreck behind them. The swindled people impoverished, all our public works suspended, industry paralyzed, the treasury robbed and bankrupt, the public credit destroyed, and the State reeling under a mountain load of debt which the recklessness and corruption of the Democratic leaders had fastened upon the people.

The whole period of their administration of the Territorial and State Governments was one long series of selfish extravagance, of wicked and dishonest misappropriations of the public money, and of swindling schemes for the benefit of the Democratic leaders, culminating finally in the disastrous five million loan measure—through which State bonds amounting to five million two hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars, were issued to railroad companies for the alleged purpose of aiding Mr. Rice and others in the construction of railroad, but for which the State got not a single mile of railroad in return, and in a Wild Cat Banking system based on these worthless bonds, through which immense quantities of worthless shillings were put in circulation among the people; and finally, in the explosion of the whole swindling scheme, by which thousands of poor laboring men, farmers, merchants, and others were defrauded, the State made bankrupt, and loaded down with debt, while Rice and his associates, grew rich upon the spoils they had divided among them.

During the last two years of the Democratic State administration, though in one of those years no Legislative session was held, though no land or school department had yet been organized, and no normal school, or State asylum, or geological survey, were supported, and though the operations of the State Government did not embrace one quarter of the official business now transacted by it—the current expenses amounted to the enormous sum of $165,907, or $259,563 for each year, or twice the current expenses under Republican rule. In order to pay a portion of these enormous expenses, the eight per cent. State bonds amounting to $250,000 were issued, and still remain a debt to be paid; a part were issued for the State, which were worth only from 60 to 85 cents in the market, so completely had the financial recklessness of the Democratic party destroyed the public credit.

But this notorious extravagance in the current expenditures of the State was the least of the disasters which Democratic mismanagement inflicted upon the people. It was during these years that the Democratic school system, which under the Democratic regime, was so scandalously ignored that hardly any provision was made anywhere for the support of schools, and an organized school district or school house was almost unknown outside of a Republican township—as now the State has been organized, nearly all the school districts have been organized and have their regular schools, which are generally in a flourishing condition, under the efficient supervision of our State and county superintendents.

We have established and fostered the Normal School, and the State asylum for the deaf and dumb, incurred annual expenses for geological surveys, in aid of emigration, for the care of insane persons, for the soldier's hospital, and various other important matters, while the Democratic party entirely neglected the Democratic school system, which under the Democratic regime, was so scandalously ignored that hardly any provision was made anywhere for the support of schools, and an organized school district or school house was almost unknown outside of a Republican township—as now the State has been organized, nearly all the school districts have been organized and have their regular schools, which are generally in a flourishing condition, under the efficient supervision of our State and county superintendents.

Our State Land Department has been thoroughly organized, and a wise and conservative policy adopted for the disposal of our school lands, and the profitable sale of the same, and the result of the resulting school fund has been faithfully and vigorously carried out.

Of our 3,000,000 acres of school lands, 131,900 acres have been sold at an average of $6.34 per acre, yielding the magnificent sum of $838,981 to the credit of our general school fund, while the sales to be made this year will increase to over a million dollars, and producing more than enough with the regular school tax to give every child in the State a thorough education.

Our Railroad enterprises which in 1859 seemed in a condition of hopeless ruin, are now moving on to completion with a vigor and rapidity which promises in five years to give us a network of Railroads reaching to every point of the State. 174 miles have already been completed, and the cars running thereon, and by next winter 300 miles will have been completed.

The people whom the Democratic party left in 1859 impoverished and in despair are now prosperous, happy and confident of the future. Though our young State has furnished nearly 25,000 men to suppress the Rebellion of the Democratic party against the Government, and has been devastated by Indian massacres and raids—the direct fruits of Democratic Indian frauds—she has meanwhile gone on prospering and to prosper under the benign sway of the Republican party. In spite of all the extraneous embarrassments of war and droughts superadded to the legacy of burdens imposed upon the State by Democratic misrule, our population has increased in six years from 150,000 to 250,000, and now that the war is over, it will double in three years. Our agricultural development has been wonderful. In 1858, when the peo-

A Charleston Paper Calls for Northern Amalgamation—Trade at Savannah.

New York, Oct. 17. The steamer Quaker City, from Charleston the 14th, has arrived. The Charleston Courier urges the people of South Carolina to send north and induce immigrants to come and, advocates a general plan of southern emigration. The steamer Idaho and Leo have arrived from Savannah.

The Herald of that city says that at no time during the past ten years have there been more active among shipping and in trade generally.

The Herald contains a circular from General Fillmore, putting forth certain rules for the government of freedmen. They are here informed that they will not be subsisted in almshouses by the government, and the whites are assured that they will be held to good faith in their first contract with the freedmen.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Brice Trial—Troops Wanted and Not Wanted.

It may have been a complaint, but it did not want compliance, but justice.

(Some recognition of justice, approaching justice we resolved to gain more.)

The collapse of the Confederacy prevented a new trial on the battle field.

It made it evident, however, that we should be home in time for the political campaign, this fall.

The soldiers who had lost the chance of voting last year, thought it right that they should be represented on the ticket.

We did not want every man on the ticket a soldier, nor every soldier who should be on it to be a man.

But we want some of the five Minnesota regiments of that corps should draw one of the honors to be dealt out at the November election.

Gen. Hubbard was the Minnesota officer in whose person the 16th Corps was best represented. He had served long and faithfully; had made his regiment second to none from this or any State in name and deserving; had commanded a brigade with uniform success; had been repeatedly complimented for personal gallantry and was, by superior and subordinate alike, universally respected and esteemed.

He was the choice of such officers of the Minnesota regiments in his corps as could consult together, and had nearly given a reluctant consent to allow his name to be by them urged upon the Union Convention, which we believed would, in accordance with a soldier, give also our choice, if otherwise qualified.

His objections, which I feel were not to his discredit, were that before the war he was not politically known throughout the State; and that his reputation was chiefly as an officer and soldier; that although these circumstances were no objections to him, who knew him better, yet a hungry opposition would make the most of the hurt of himself and the whole ticket; and further his own personal preferences for Gen. Marshall upon these and other grounds.

Gen. Hubbard himself, more than any other man, induced the present nominee to become a candidate. To effect this he came from Minneapolis to St. Paul, together with Maj. Strick of the 10th Regiment, Captains Kennedy and Hahcock of the 10th, and others, by personal interviews induced Gen. Marshall to allow us to recommend him instead of Hubbard.

Those who have wondered that Marshall became at last a candidate after it was reported that he would not be, and those who marvelled that officers of the army recommended a brother officer to the Union convention, have here the inducements narrated by one who had personal knowledge of all three things.

Let this be remembered by Gen. Hubbard, when the time comes to bestow upon him his long deserved reward.

A Fish Story—Hubbard Hard to Swallow.

As one of the Panama steamers was leaving the harbor of Havana, a beautiful widow lady named Howard, was standing by the gunwale, on which her son, a boy about four years old, was sitting playing on a sugar flag, which his fond mother had purchased for him of an ingenious Spanish confectioner. The child was greatly delighted with the toy, and blithely, while Mrs. Howard scanned to enjoy the spectacle. The transatlantic beauty of the mother and the angelic loveliness of the child riveted every eye that observed them, and various speculations were advanced as to their identity.

After some time a sailor shouted: "A shark! a shark!" and everybody crowded to see the huge monster that was swimming alongside the vessel. As the passengers were remarking upon the appearance of the shark, which was evidently heard to a splash, and quick as lightning the ravenous monster darted upon his prey. Little Tommy Howard had fallen from the gunwale, and the widow mother was now childless.

Mrs. Howard, who had fainted, was revived by a state of insensibility. The shark still swam by the vessel's side. Some of the men determined, if possible, to average little Tommy's death; and baiting a hook with a piece of fresh beef, they cast it overboard. Almost immediately the shark swallowed it, and 50 stalwart men rushed lustily at the rope. He was an immense monster and struggled violently. As soon as the nose was pulled out of the water, a number of Californians began to practice pistol shooting at his eye. Their balls soon put a quietus upon him, and he was landed lifeless and sent on board. When his huge bulk was stretched along deck, it was proposed that he should be opened, and the remains of the boy taken out of the bowels and given a Christian burial. The proposition was immediately acted upon, and the carcass was laid open, when, to the utter astonishment of everybody, they were found snugly seated between a couple of the monster's ribs, still playing on his flag.

MURDER CASE.

There seems to have been quite a contest for the Mankato post office, which has resulted in placing affairs in a queer shape. According to the Record's statement, Mr. H. L. Gude and Mr. James Thompson were applicants for the position. Mr. Gude, thinking his chance doubtful, made an arrangement by which he withdrew in favor of Mr. Thompson, and forwarded his withdrawal to Washington. Right days before this reached there Mr. Gude was commissioned as P. M. and the necessary documents forwarded. Upon receiving the appointment, Mr. Gude took possession of the office and entered upon his duties, and wrote to Washington to withdraw his withdrawal. But before his second letter arrived his first had been acted upon, his withdrawal accepted and Mr. Thompson notified that he would be commissioned upon the receipt of the proper bond. Mr. Gude in the meantime, is still endeavoring to withdraw his declaration, with what success is yet unknown.
